

By Matthew Marsico

My Family Tradition

Advent is a tradition my family does every year. Advent is a religious holiday. It's a celebration of Jesus's birth. Jesus is a savior of the world.

We begin by gathering our family. Then we light the candles in the advent wreath. There are five candles and we light one candle each Sunday. Then we read the bible. The bible is a book that tells what happened a long long time ago. It tells about God's story in the olden days.

The first candle is the purple candle, that tells about the lord being born. The second candle is the Bethlehem candle. It means that Bethlehem is the town where Jesus was born. The third candle is the shepherd candle. It means when the angels came to the shepherds and told them a savior was born. The fourth candle is the angel candle. Which means when the angels announced that Jesus is born.

And the final candle is the Jesus candle that means that a lord has come to save the earth.